The West Virginia Developmental Disabilities Council is soliciting interest for a limited number of new members to be appointed to the Council. Specifically, the Council is seeking people with developmental disabilities and/or family members, and will look first at applicants from under-represented areas of the State.

The Developmental Disabilities Council is a 31-member organization established by an Executive Order of the Governor on March 6, 1972. The Council is supported administratively by the Department of Health and Human Resources and is funded by a grant under the federal Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act (P.L. 106-402).

The Council's mission is to assure that West Virginians with developmental disabilities receive the services, supports, and opportunities they need to achieve independence, productivity, integration, and inclusion into the community of their choice.

The Council consists of citizens with developmental disabilities, family members, and representatives from State and private organizations concerned with the provision of services to people with developmental disabilities. Over 60% are citizen members who are appointed by the Governor for terms of up to four years.

Definition of Developmental Disability

A severe, chronic disability that –

- A) is attributable to a mental or physical impairment, or combination of mental and physical impairments; and
- B) is manifested before the individual attains age 22; and
- C) is likely to continue indefinitely; and
- D) results in substantial functional limitations in 3 or more of the following areas of major life activity: (a) self-care, (b) receptive and expressive language, (c) learning, (d) mobility, (e) self-direction, (f) capacity for independent living, (g) economic self-sufficiency; and
- E) reflects the individual's need for a combination and sequence of special, interdisciplinary, or generic services, individualized supports, or other forms of assistance that are of lifelong or extended duration and are individually planned and coordinated.

Young Children

An individual from birth to age 9, inclusive, who has a substantial developmental delay or specific congenital or acquired condition, may be considered to have a developmental disability without meeting 3 or more of the criteria describes in (D) (a) through (g) if the individual, without services and supports, has a high probability of meeting those criteria later in life.

~Definition taken from P.L.106-402

 By themselves, sensory impairments (e.g. blindness, deafness), learning disabilities, emotional disorders, mental health impairments, and many physical disabilities are not considered to be developmental disabilities.

(Feel free to continue on the back of the last page if needed for the following questions.)

Please tell us something about your experiences and beliefs about people with developmental disabilities.

As a member of the WV DD Council, you would be looking at the “big picture” and finding solutions to problems affecting many people. What would an ideal service delivery system look like for children and adults with developmental disabilities and their families?

Please tell us why you are interested in becoming a Council Member.

Tell us about your involvement and/or advocacy experiences with other organizations, boards, or other groups. (Prior involvement is not a requirement for Council membership.)

Please provide us with the names of three people we can contact for references:
