

The West Virginia Developmental Disabilities Council 2016 Legislative Statements

The West Virginia Developmental Disabilities Council is an independent state agency funded by a grant under the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act (PL. 106-402). The mission of the Council is to assure that West Virginians with developmental disabilities receive the services and supports and other forms of assistance they need to exercise self-determination and achieve independence, productivity, integration and inclusion in their communities.

HEALTH

The Council will monitor and support legislation that expands and/or improves the quality and accessibility of health care services for people with intellectual and other developmental disabilities.

The Council will monitor and support legislation that promotes a healthier environment.

The Council will monitor and support any healthcare related legislation that mandates insurance programs to cover assistive technology, augmentative equipment, preventative and maintenance dental, hearing and vision services, as well as reasonable and adequate reimbursement for necessities such as tube feeding formulas and other durable medical supplies.

The Council will monitor and advocate against any policy or legislation that seeks to hasten death by allowing or authorizing medical professionals to judge the value of a person's life by invoking "quality of life" concerns.

COMMUNITY SUPPORTS

The Council will monitor the State's Medicaid budget and other appropriations in order to advocate for adequate funding for programs that allow people with intellectual and other developmental disabilities to receive the services and supports they need to live, learn, work, and fully participate in the community of their choice.

The Council will monitor and support legislation that requires direct care staff to be highly qualified and trained to assist people with intellectual and other developmental disabilities.

The Council will continue to advocate for full implementation of the Olmstead decision rendered by the United States Supreme Court in June 1999. The decision mandates that States administer services, programs, and activities in the most integrated settings.

The Council will monitor and support legislation that allows people with intellectual and other developmental disabilities to live free from abuse, neglect, and financial exploitation.

The Council will support legislation that strengthens safeguards for people with intellectual and other developmental disabilities who do not qualify for or are denied Medicaid I/DD Waiver, Aged and Disabled Waiver, Traumatic Brain Injury Waiver, or other relevant publicly funded community supports.

EDUCATION

The Council will advocate for full enforcement of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA) and other relevant laws and policies. The Council also advocates sanctioning school districts that do not comply or implement these laws and policies.

The Council will support legislation that promotes inclusive education to the maximum extent possible for students of all ages and all levels of need.

The Council will support legislation that requires all teachers, therapists, and staff to be highly qualified and trained to implement and carryout Individualized Education Plans (IEPs) and 504 Plans that may include positive behavioral interventions and supports, necessary therapies, and other services and supports.

The Council will support legislation that requires enforcement of Policy 4373 Expected Behavior in Safe and Supportive Schools to allow students with intellectual and other developmental disabilities to be educated free from bullying and unnecessary expulsion and suspension.

The Council will support legislation that requires school districts to comply with policies and laws that limit and prohibit seclusion and restraints of students.

The Council will support policies that cause students with intellectual and other developmental disabilities, their parents, and teachers to receive additional support, training (including the impact of a modified diploma versus a general diploma), and planning at all stages of transition in preparing students for a productive life after school.

The Council will support legislation that makes it mandatory for transition planning and services to begin at age 14 for students with developmental disabilities.

EMPLOYMENT

The Council will support increased flexibility of Career Technical Education (CTE) programs to allow enrollment of students with the most significant intellectual and other developmental disabilities so that they can earn certificates that would increase the possibilities of meaningful employment.

The Council will support legislation that gives employers tax breaks or other incentives for hiring people with intellectual and other developmental disabilities.

The Council will monitor and support legislation that assists people with intellectual and other developmental disabilities to receive valued, integrated employment with competitive wages.
